FOREWORD

I am honoured to present the 14th annual report of the Central University of Karnataka (CUK) for April 2021-March 2022. The CUK has made significant progress this year in academic teaching and research with the help of administrative personnel despite the partial impact of COVID-19.

The CUK has adapted Learning Management System (LMS) MOODLE platform for teaching undergraduate and postgraduate students online. Faculty members and students swiftly learned to use this new modality of teaching and evaluation. At the same time, the CUK has provided infrastructure and logistics support for Ph.D. scholars to continue their research in a blended mode, which resulted in the publication of more than 125 research articles with improved citations, 65 book chapters, and solely 35 books.

One of the main objectives of CUK is to empower students for higher education and employment. In this regard, several programs, workshops, and campus placements were organized. As a result, more than 70 students have cleared national and state-level competitive exams for higher studies and around 30 students cleared exams for government jobs and more than 100 students have been placed in different companies right after their degree program.

Due to the second and third waves of COVID-19, the CUK could not bring its UG and PG students into the campus till Dec 2021. However, the teaching and supporting staff continued their routine at the campus. To mitigate the impact of COVID-19 among the CUK fraternity, strict measures such as RT-

PCR tests, vaccination programs, self-isolation of symptomatic, and ensuing GoI guidelines have been followed. The CUK not only safeguarded its people but also extended its support to the public through our COVID-19 testing centre by testing and analyzing several 1000 samples received from government hospitals of Gulbarga and nearby cities in its COVID-19 testing centre. The CUK provided a hostel to the government to set up a quarantine centre.

Faculties of CUK managed to attract more than 3 crores of funding from various national and International funding agencies for their innovative projects. Further to support and strengthen the research component, CUK initiated technical purchase of new equipment worth 45 crores for a sophisticated instrumentation centre and operationalize from 2022-23.

To implement the National Education Policy-2020, the CUK engaged in discussions with various academic experts across the country at the department, school, and university levels. As a result, the CUK has taken a quantum leap forward in changing the curriculum for all postgraduate courses to meet the demands of the 21st century. In addition, the CUK is introducing new 4-years undergraduate programs that bodes well with NEP-2020. To admit students to these programs, CUK has collaborated with all other central universities to conduct Common University Entrance Test (CUET). All these new programs will start from the academic year 2022-23.

The demand for UG and PG admissions has been increasing over the years. The CUK could captivate students from at least 25 states and union territories of India. To accommodate an ever-increasing number of students, the CUK is constructing two hostels with a capacity of 1000 under the project Higher Education Funding Agency (HEFA). Parallely, the construction of the Sophisticated Instrumentation Centre, Engineering Laboratories & Infrastructure, Incubation and Skill Development Centre, and Classroom Complex building are underway swiftly under the HEFA project.

The CUK thank the government of India for its tireless vaccination programs across the country to bring the pandemic to end. We extend our thanks to the University Court, EC, and AC members for their valuable contribution to all our endeavors. Also we express our gratitude to the Ministry of Education, University Grants Commission, DST and other funding agencies for their support. The CUK march towards pursuit of excellence in research, teaching, and contribute to nation-building in every possible way in the years to come.

Head: Prof. Mohammed Aslam M. A

The Department of Geology has good facilities and laboratories to cater to the needs of practical courses of M.Sc. students as well as research scholars. Geology is the study of the interacting systems of the solid Earth with atmosphere, hydrosphere, and biosphere as they evolve through time. The courses offered at the department focus on the scientific study of the earth. Geologists discover, develop, and responsibly manage minerals, energy, and other earth resources. Geological knowledge enables to ensure the sustainable development of natural resources and the use of these resources responsibly.

The courses offered by the department cover a wide range of core courses in geology and allied subjects. It provides a foundation for the study of fundamental geologic methods and problems, both in the laboratory and in the field. It includes instruction in geomorphology, sedimentology, hydrogeology, geochemistry, stratigraphy, mineralogy, petrology, geostatistics, geophysics, remote sensing, environmental geology, economic geology, geophysical principles and geoinformatics. These courses are designed such that they blend traditional basics of earth sciences with the emerging cutting-edge geo-spatial applications and techniques so that the students are equipped with both theoretical constructs and practical applications of the subjects. The Department of Geology strives to achieve academic excellence and to produce geoscientists with world-class training.

4.6 School of Engineering

Dean: Dr. Veeresh G. Kasabegoudar

The School of Engineering was started in 2013 with a motto to create the next generation engineers, capable of serving society by providing high quality engineering solutions to address the problems of 21st century. The academic programs of the school are focused on knowledge assimilation, dissemination, and generation. The school is creating a high quality infrastructure in terms of well-qualified faculty, well-equipped laboratories, computational facilities, and high-quality learning materials in various domains of engineering. In addition to such infrastructure, the school aims to create an ambience for learning and innovation for the students as well as the faculty. This infrastructure would be utilized to create exceptional human resources for the industries and public organizations, thereby helping in building a “Knowledge Society”. Currently, the school has a strength of 202 students & 15 faculty members.

School of Engineering

- Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering
- Department of Electrical Engineering

4.6.1 Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering

Head: Dr. Veeresh G. Kasabegoudar

The Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering (ECE) was started in the academic year 2013-14 with five years of integrated engineering courses Int. M.Tech in Information and Communication Technology. Presently the department offers 4 years B.Tech, M.Tech (2 years), and Ph.D. courses. It is a young and dynamic department that takes an applied engineering approach to ICT towards real-world problems. The programs offered in the department are broad and rigorous with courses in electronics, communication, antenna design, microwave, advanced processors, embedded systems, image processing, programming languages, scientific computing, systems, and artificial intelligence. The department is to enable India's excellence in the world of Electronics, Communication, and Information Technology (IT). We are pursuit to advance the frontiers of research in Electronics, Computer science, and IT and offer world-class pedagogical and research experience to the students. Currently, the department has a strength of 105 students and 6 faculty members.

Vision:

To develop skilled manpower of international standards, with humane and societal concerns, at undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral levels and create new knowledge and technologies in different fields of Electronics and Communication Engineering.

Mission:

- MS-1: To produce human resources capable of working towards nation-building by designing the outcome-based curriculum with social relevance and providing the best learning experiences to students at U.G., P.G., and Doctoral levels.
- MS-2: To enhance the research capabilities in cutting-edge areas of ECE by providing excellent infrastructure and modern software and hardware facilities.

MS-3: To build a strong Industry-Institute Interaction by having MOUs with industries.

MS-4: To collaborate with premier institutes in India and abroad to achieve academic excellence of international standards.

The programs of study are expected to prepare a student to function as an innovative engineer capable of applying his knowledge to address multi-faceted problems in the industry and society in general. Present-day industries require engineer-scientists with a wide knowledge in both science and engineering. The engineering programs are designed to serve such a need. Further, the emphasis would be on developing a scientific and innovative spirit, instilling professional ethics and a spirit of service to society at large. Further, they would also have the opportunity to study cross-disciplinary subjects depending on their interest. Thus, the students would be well prepared to contribute to current industrial advances which require solutions of multi-disciplinary. A high-level School Board and Board of Studies (comprising eminent persons from IIT, NIT, and Industries) will guide/monitor the progress of programs. The Engineering programs will have a Teaching component (TC), comprising Lectures (L), and Practical (P), and a Learning component (LC), comprising internships, projects, thesis, seminars, colloquium, paper presentations, etc. The curriculum of programs is designed to have a choice-based credit system as per UGC / Ministry of Education norms.

4.7.5 Department of Linguistics

Coordinator: Dr. Manjulakshi L

In the word, India has one of the oldest and richest traditions of linguistic study. The rich multilingual situation provides challenges and opportunities for a well-designed research and training program in Linguistics/Language Sciences. The great history and relatedness within and between languages and language families provide ample scope for academic research. The linguistic and literary traditions of various languages in India offer intellectually stimulating and emotionally integrating outcomes. Justification for a systematic study of language in India has not only scholarly, but also pragmatic in terms of urgent regional, state, and national priorities. India faces many challenges in language education, both in mother tongues and in second languages. Integration of the historically underprivileged and marginalized classes and castes into the educational mainstream is a national priority and languages can play an enabling role. Many lesser-known, minor, and tribal languages need attention from scholars and policymakers to carry out the description and documentation tasks for their development. The use of Indian languages as a medium of higher education remains an unfulfilled goal, especially, in the sciences. Recent advancements such as the use of regional languages in texting, emails, and the internet, call for precise descriptions of languages and the adoption of techniques from natural language processing. Thus India needs a trained workforce in different applied areas of Linguistics to meet the present and future needs of the society. The program and courses offered by the Department of Linguistics at CUK are designed to address these issues in research and teaching.

4.11.2 Department of Physics

Head: Dr. Deepak Samuel

The Department of Physics was started in the year 2012 and has ever since been in pursuit of excellence in physics education and research. The department currently offers M.Sc. physics and Ph.D. physics programs catering to about 60 postgraduates, 90 integrated program students, and 8 Ph.D. students. The department with 4 faculties has its primary research activities focusing on soft-matter physics, spintronics, high energy physics, and proton therapy. The department is gradually building its infrastructure with laboratories hosting research instruments like AFM, LB trough, X-ray diffractometer, closed cycle cryogenic system, Sputtering unit, and a GPU server. Recently, the Department has forayed into the burgeoning area of artificial intelligence, device development, and membrane physics.

The major strength and highlight of the M.Sc. program is the project work carried out by the students in the final semester. The students can opt to carry out their project work at CUK or another institution in India in a field of their choice. The students present their work and also submit a report at the end of their project. This training has helped students get first-hand experience of working in a research environment in addition to improving their scientific communication skills. Some of these projects have also resulted in peer-reviewed publications. As a result, more than 10 students have been placed in international Ph.D. programs and many others have joined premier institutions like IISc, IITs, and NITs. This reflects the outstanding training our students receive.

Another important educational initiative of the Department is the running of refresher courses in experimental physics supported by the Academies of Science. The Department has hosted 3 such courses so far and some of our faculties have been participating regularly as resource persons in many parts of the country. Our faculty have initiated national and international collaborations and regularly present their work in seminars and conferences. Specifically, the Department has been actively involved in India's 2000 Cr. mega-science project India-based Neutrino Observatory, and national initiatives like The Indian Nanoelectronics Users Program (INUP). To date, the Department, through its faculty, has received grants of over Rs. 70 Lakhs for carrying out research projects.

4.12.4 Department of Public Administration

Coordinator: Dr. Sandeep Inampudi

The Central University of Karnataka is inaugurating another discipline in its stream of social sciences, the Department of Public Administration, with a new Post-Graduation course titled Public Administration and Governance from July 2020 which is a very new initiative both at national and state level in the academic history of Public Administration. This Department of Public Administration is the first regular university Department at Central Universities in South India and, in particular, a dedicated Department in the State of Karnataka for higher studies in Public Administration. The new emerging course in Post-Graduation titled Public Administration and Governance mainly focuses on balancing the traditional administrative and organizational theories at one end and new changing dynamics of state and administration with new terms like governance since the 1990s (Post-LPG era). Today the main focus of governance is, “It might be profitable to look upon government somewhat less as a problem of power and somewhat more as a problem of steering.”

It is a unique integration of concepts, tools, and techniques with stress on understanding the philosophical concepts of Administrative Theories and Thinkers who contributed to effective and efficient organization in the Public and Private Sector, Contemporary Debates in Public Policy formulation, implementation, evaluation including the design and execution of delivery systems. Its thrust is on interdisciplinary approaches in learning, strategic thinking, global orientation, sensitivity, and innovation. The interdisciplinary program aims to train present and future leaders, functionaries and activists in government and non-government agencies and civil society members to develop a comprehensive understanding of Public Administration and Governance issues from multiple perspectives and disciplines.

Outreach Activities:

1. Awareness about Organic Farming

The goal of organic agriculture is to contribute to the enhancement of sustainability. But what does sustainability mean? In the context of agriculture, sustainability refers to the successful management of agricultural resources to satisfy human needs while at the same time maintaining or enhancing the quality of the environment and conserving natural resources for future generations. Sustainability in organic farming must therefore be seen in a holistic sense, which includes ecological, economic, and social aspects. Organic agriculture shares many techniques used by other sustainable agricultural approaches (e.g. intercropping, crop rotation, mulching, and integration of crops and livestock). However, the use of natural inputs (non-synthetic), the improvement of soil structure and fertility, and the use of a crop rotation plan represent the basic rules that make organic agriculture a unique agricultural management system. The programme organised on the organic farming and its importance on July 2021 at Alur village in Alanda Taluk, Kalaburagi District, organized by Dr. Tejaswai Lakkundi.
