

Department of Folkloristics and Tribal studies, Central University of Karnataka presents

SPECIAL LECTURE 1

Topic- Conflating Contexts: Cultural Studies, Literature, and Folklore

3rd December, 2020, 1 P.M (IST)

Professor Desmond L Kharmawphlang, a well acclaimed Poet and Folklorist is currently Professor and head at the Department of Culture and Creative studies, North Eastern Hill University, Shillong, Meghalaya. He has been the visiting professor at the International Institute of Education, New York, U.S.A, and is engaged in a project sponsored by Liverhulme Trust, which explore the shared cultural histories of the Welsh and the Khasi peoples.

Penned gamut of books and poems on Folklore and Folkloristic; He was also on sponsored invitation at literary events in Switzerland, United Kingdom, Republic of Ireland and Norway and others. He was inducted as an Associate member, Folk fellows, an institution instituted by the Finnish Academy of Science and letters; A National Editorial board member of the Journal of the Indian Folklore research, Mysore, and is one of the four Vice Presidents of the Indian Folklore Congress.

Prof. Desmond L Kharmawphlang, Poet and Folklorist

Convenor and Moderator

Dr Longshibeni Nzuthung Kithan

Co- Convenors

Dr Rajashree

Dr Rohinaksha

Dr Rajashekaran L

Assistants

Ms. Mahak Tiwari (M.A Folkloristics & Tribal studies, 1st semester)

Mr. Bhukya Rakesh (M.A Folkloristics & Tribal studies, 1st semester)

Google Meet